

ANOTHER TAG DAY

CITY BOARD OF CHARITIES IS FACING A DEPLETED FUND.

SEVERAL WORTHY CASES

Board Has Been Taking Care of Them, But Now Finds It Necessary to Raise More Funds.

Another Tag Day for charity! It is a necessity!

The city board of charities is facing an almost depleted fund, and it will probably be in that state by the time this issue of The Democrat-Forum reaches its readers this evening. This cold wave has been felt by all of us, but for those who were not prepared, and "they are always with us," it has brought real suffering.

The board has been helping several families, all worthy cases, for several weeks, and there has been response, but not quite sufficient, to all its appeals for help for these people. And now that the board is getting to the bottom of its purse it feels justified in letting the people know of it, assured by the past that Maryville's heart will not permit a case of suffering if she knows about it.

Mrs. G. A. Nash, chairman of the board, is fortunate in having for her assistants Mrs. A. R. Perrin, Mrs. J. D. Frank, Mrs. G. H. Colbert, Miss Mae Orcar and Miss Jessie Parcher.

With these helpers the chairman is finding it possible to know if an appeal for aid is worthy or not, and they are doing all they can to relieve the distress they find or are told of, especially where there are little children.

The board now has on its hands a 6-year-old boy, Frankie Nine, who was sent to St. Francis hospital Sunday for treatment. Frankie's mother brought him to Maryville a year ago last summer. She was with the Campbell Carnival company, that showed here one week, and boarded at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Belcher, at Buchanan and Fourth streets. When she left she wanted to leave the child a week with Mrs. Belcher, because he was tired of "going around," he said, when she would return and take him away with her. At the end of a week she wrote and asked Mrs. Belcher if she would keep the child, and said she would send a stated sum to her for keeping him. Mrs. Belcher agreed to keep the little boy, and he wanted to stay with her, and the money came regularly, also letters to him.

By and by the money and letters quit coming, and no one knows where the mother is. She is separated from her husband, and nothing is known of the father. Frankie was started to school last September at the Garfield school. He is a handsome little fellow, fair-haired and blue-eyed, and as merry and good natured as he looks. But the teacher, Miss Martha Denny, saw she could not expect much work owing to his frail health. He was out of school a good deal on account of sick spells, and although he said nothing, it is believed he wondered why he did not hear from his mother. He has become much attached to Mr. and Mrs. Belcher, and wants to stay with them. About a month ago he took sick with pneumonia and has been very sick since. Mrs. Belcher was called to Wray, Col., a week ago by the death of her mother, and as there was no one to give him the care the child needed, he was taken to the hospital. He cried bitterly when he was taken from the Belcher home last Sunday, because he did not want to go to a strange place, but he is very happy and contented having completely won his heart. More now, Mother Augustine and the Sisters money is needed for his support there or until Mrs. Belcher comes home. Who would like to help this little boy, who has a face as bright as an angel's?

Another case that the board needs help with is that of a woman with three little children, the baby 4 weeks old. She lives on East Third street, and will not need help long, as she will begin to take in washing in a few weeks. She came here a few months ago from Arizona, where her husband was killed last fall. The people in Arizona made up a purse for her, with which she paid the funeral expenses, paid her way to Maryville, and had enough left to buy the property she is living in, excepting $50. She is confident she will be able to make her living all right from washing as soon as she is able. Her father lives here, but is unable to help her.

So get ready for Tag Day, and a picture show benefit at night that will be given by the board soon. Count your blessings, and then help, if it is not more than 10 cents worth. The board of charities is composed of women who are in earnest in their work, and they know how to help and advise those whom they will help.

TO SET ASIDE DEED.

J. M. Armstrong is Suing Thomas Ashbrook and Wife to Have Title Divested.

By a suit filed Thursday in Circuit Clerk Rathbun's office, Joseph W. Armstrong of this city is suing Thomas Ashbrook and wife to have a deed set aside, the plaintiff claiming that the defendants are in possession of the deed by false and fraudulent representations. Mr. Ashbrook, one of the defendants in the suit, recently sued Wm. I. Gray for $5,000 damages for the alienation of his wife's affections, and when the case was called at the last term of circuit court it was dismissed, as Mr. Ashbrook was not present in court when it was called.

The petition states that the plaintiff was the owner of and entitled to the sole and exclusive possession of a certain parcel of real estate in Maryville, and on February the plaintiff entered into a contract with defendants to sell the above real estate for $540.85, said deed to be conveyed to W. C. Pierce, and Mr. Pierce to turn it over to the defendants when the payment of $540.85 was made. The petition further says that on February 9, 1914, Ashbrook presented a check to Mr. Pierce on the Real Estate bank of Maryville for $540.85, and purporting to be drawn on his account at said bank, and claiming that said check was good. On the next day, the petition recites, the check was presented at the bank for payment, and payment was refused, there being no funds to Ashbrook's credit.

The suit is to have the deed set aside and cancelled, and to divest all title out of the defendants. Shinnabarger, Blagg & Ellison are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

EVANGELIST HAUDENSCHILD.

Conducting the Greatest Religious Meeting Olympia, Wash., Has Ever Seen.

The Democrat-Forum received Thursday a copy of the Olympia (Wash.) Independent, in which it speaks of the great meeting being held there by Evangelist C. R. Haudenschild, who is the son-in-law of Mrs. J. V. Embree of this city and who is well known here. The Independent editorially says:

"Haudenschild has the quality of a great speaker. He has the highest quality of oratory, the gift of making each hearer feel that he is talking to him. Haudenschild does not aim at arousing emotion. He is terse in plain English, swift, clear movement of his mind from thought to thought. His wealth of vivid anecdotes are all oratorical of the highest kind. The Bible lectures have aroused the interest of the Christian people of Olympia and have created a new interest and love for the old Book. These afternoon meetings will always remain in the minds of the Christian people of Olympia."

A few sentence sermons from the addresses of Evangelist Haudenschild are:

Reputation is what you are in the dark.

Character is never put on, it grows out.

The proof of right doing, is doing right.

It is not what you can do, but what you will do that counts.

Going to church does not make you a Christian, any more than going to the stable makes you a horse.

The most successful preacher against the church is the inconsistent life of the church member.

You that are talking about hypocrites in the church have no kick coming. It is one of your gang that got in by mistake.

It takes less sense to criticize than to do anything else. There are a great many critics in the asylum.

I want a religion that gives us something to do, and isn't everlastingly catching at something.

I think of the so-called elite or upper crusts of society the same as I do of foam. It comes to the top because it is light.

The back door of the church ought to be opened once a year and give all who have not lived up to its rules an opportunity to pass out.

The girl that will marry a man whose breath smells with whisky is the biggest fool that angels ever wept over.

I don't think much of dignity; my observation has been that the more dignity a man has the nearer dead he is.

Mrs. Elizabeth French was a business visitor in Bolckow Wednesday evening.

AGAINST RAILROAD CROSSINGS.

State Highway Engineer Buffum Wants to Get Crossings Out of County Seat Roads.

County Highway Engineer John H. Clary received a letter from State Engineer Frank W. Buffum on Thursday, in which he writes in regard to what has been done toward taking the railroad crossings out of both sides of the Wilcox station. He says:

"We want to get these crossings out of the county seat highways. It has been necessary to divert some highways in the other localities on account of the neglect to do this very important thing, and we hope it will not be necessary in this case. If persons are damaged it is but proper that they should be paid for any damages that would happen, but, generally speaking, it is a safety to their families and they should not drive the road away from where they get the benefit of a good road, and escape the dust."

Birth of a Son.

A son was born to Mrs. James Berry Wednesday morning. Mrs. Berry lives in apartments over the Nunnally grocery. Her husband, who was employed in that store, died last August.

THE GAYNORS DELIGHTED US.

Severe Storm Prevented Good Crowd But Did Not Hinder the Program—Song Writers and Composers.

Mrs. Jessie L. Gaynor of St. Louis, the noted composer of children's songs and other musical compositions, and her talented daughters, Miss Rose Gaynor and Mrs. Dorothy Gaynor-Blake, gave a charming program at the First M. E. church Wednesday night, through the effort of Mr. P. O. Landon of the Conservatory.

It would be difficult to tell of the merit of each of these artists, for they performed their parts equally well. The solo work of Miss Gaynor and Mrs. Blake was well selected, each giving the song best suited to her voice and temperament.

Mrs. Gaynor announced the program in a most delightful way, and as the greater part of the program was of her own composition, and several were by her daughters, the audience and the singers were brought into closer relation and there was a feeling of close friendship between them by the time the program ended. Mrs. Blake has a beautiful, soft mezzo-soprano, while the voice of her sister is a clear soprano. The duet work was lovely, their voices melting into the sweetest melody, and when the mother joined with them in two trios at the close of the program, her sweet contralto added to the beauty and harmony. They are the most interesting and talented trio that have visited Maryville.

Mrs. Gaynor and her daughters gave a concert Monday afternoon for the Fortnightly club of St. Joseph, which was organized by Mrs. Gaynor, and she was its first president. She conducted a studio in St. Joseph while her daughters were growing to womanhood, and they spent some time in Europe studying. They were greeted in a delightful way in their old home Monday, which shows that the esteem in which they were always held had not decreased. The program they gave consisted of piano numbers as well as vocal, and as all are brilliant pianists, their concert was extraordinary. Mrs. Blake accompanies herself in many of her solos.

Mrs. Gaynor was the honor guest of a dinner given in St. Louis the other day by the Nu Phi Epsilon sorority, a national musical organization of which Mrs. Gaynor has been made an honorary member.

Home From Chicago.

Mrs. Edward F. Wolfert returned Thursday morning from a week's visit at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., with her niece, Miss Carrie Margaret Baker. Mrs. Baker, who accompanied Mrs. Wolfert to Chicago, remained for a longer visit with her daughter.

Miss Corwin in High School.

Miss Mae Corwin has been chosen an additional instructor in history and English for the Maryville high school by the board of education. She will be engaged half of each day in this work, which was made necessary by the crowded condition of the classes. The high school has a greater number of students now than at any time.

Death of Nine-Year-Old Boy.

Wilson Lekey, the 9-year-old son of Mrs. Ida Lekey of Burlington Junction, died Thursday morning at 3 o'clock of an acute attack of diabetes, with which he was taken Monday. His death occurred at the home of Mrs. Lekey's mother, Mrs. D. J. Rhoades, with whom she makes her home. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Christian church, Rev. Love, the pastor, conducting the services. Burial at Burlington Junction.

FIRST BANQUET

COMPANY F HAD AN ENJOYABLE TIME.

WHAT SPEAKERS SAID

Rev. L. M. Hale Told the Boys to Have Push—I. B. Williams Spoke of Punctuality.

Company F took a new lease on life last night at its first banquet in Armory hall. The company was ordered to "fall in," and marched to the banquet tables at 8:35. Rev. L. M. Hale and I. B. Williams, the speakers of the evening, and Ussel Crockett were given seats of honor.

The banquet itself was appetizing, especially to members of the company, for they had prepared most of the spread themselves with assistance from two or three mothers of members. "This is the first movement to revive interest in Company F," said Lieutenant DeMotte, in the course of his remarks as toastmaster. He also stated that it was the intention and hope to put in a wrestling mat, horizontal bars, boxing gloves, punching bag and other things as a diversion from the regular drill and army tactics. "What we want and are trying to do," he said, "is to have a place where the fellows can come and spend the evenings with some pleasure instead of loafing on the streets. We want to make the company mean something to Maryville as well as to ourselves." The toastmaster then introduced Rev. L. M. Hale as the principal speaker of the evening. In introducing him he said that he did not wish to introduce him as a preacher but as a man; as a fellow who was not ashamed to work and talk with other fellows.

Rev. Hale said that he considered that he had been paid one of the highest compliments by the toastmaster that it had ever been his privilege to receive. "I consider a man to be the biggest thing God ever made," he said, "and the next biggest thing was to do a man's job."

"In looking at the faces of these men I notice that most of them are young. And by that I am reminded of the story one of the college professors used to tell us boys at school. It is an old story, but illustrates the point. The old professor held an acorn in his hand and said this is an oak tree, in that it represents the possibility of the oak. Herein lies the germ that is nurtured by Mother Nature into the full grown sturdy oak of the forest. In itself it is no more than the acorn, but holds within its tiny shell the rudiments of the oak. So with you young fellows here. You are the possibilities of the man. You are now molding yourselves into powers of good or evil. In forming this company you have tremendous possibilities before you to do good. While you are training for military service you should not overlook the moral side of your development. To realize the greatest of your possibilities you must have a definite purpose. To do something that will be of service to your fellow men as well as to your country. To realize your purpose accomplished you must have what I call push."

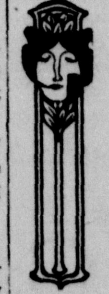

I. B. Williams, a former member of the cadet band of the University of Missouri, was then introduced by the toastmaster as a fellow among fellows "who hates a sneak and lives up to his belief." He said that the first lesson he had to learn was "obedience" and submission to the commanding officer, and one of the lessons that the members of the company would have to learn before they would make good and useful soldiers. "The next thing to learn," he said, "is punctuality. This is one of the great secrets of military movements." He said that he hoped to see the members follow the flag of the company and make it mean something to Maryville as well as to themselves. "Make the people of this town respect you because of your good work, and not have them criticize you by saying you are a bunch of rough-necks, which you are not."

The members each spoke a few words in praise of their first efforts at holding a banquet, and each pledged himself to stand loyally by the company and make it a success. Last Sunday night a number of the company attended the Buchanan Street Methodist church in a body. It is the intention of the company to attend the other churches from time to time.

The toastmaster said that he hoped the boys would lend their support in helping to make the company one to which the people of Maryville could look with pride.

Met With Mrs. Bellows.

The Shakespearean department of the Twentieth Century club held its meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George P. Bellows. Owing to much sickness among the members several substitutes had to be made on the program, and the lack was exceedingly well met. Roll call was responded to with quotations from act 2 of "As You Like It." The outline was given by Miss Grace Langan. The following questions were answered: What comparison does the Duke make of the life of courts and the life of nature? Miss Lenore Schumacher. How is Jacques introduced, and show the difference between the ordinary meaning of the word melancholy and Shakespeare's use denoting a melancholic disposition. Mrs. Berney Harris. How does Shakespeare show contrasts between beasts of prey and beasts that are preyed upon by man? Miss Alma Nash. What humorous commingling of masculine and feminine touches do we observe in the first scene presenting Rosalind in male attire? Mrs. G. A. Nash. Why is so much of act 22 given to the depicting of Jacques? Mrs. J. S. Shinabargar. What do you know of his past life? Mrs. Herbert Langsdorf. Is his melancholy the result of disillusion or is it an element in his nature? Mrs. George Robert Eaton. Give Jacques' description of the ages, Mrs. E. G. Orear. Amiens song, Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend. A general discussion followed. Current events, Miss Della Grems. Word drill, Mrs. Gallatin Craig. Parliamentary drill, Mrs. Orear.

The Federation Meeting.

Notwithstanding extremely disagreeable weather of Tuesday afternoon, a goodly number of ladies gathered for the meeting of the City Federation. The president made use of the occasion to extend her thanks to any and all who helped or patronized and made "The Pete of Months" the success it was. The object of this affair, the placing of seats in the court house yard, will have a neat sum to its credit. It was also reported that a seat will be added to the number to be bought by the Federation and given by the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Colbert, chairman of the civic improvement committee, was happy to report that the movement for cleaning up the town of old magazines, gathering together a car load and selling them, the proceeds to be used for a rest room, is being received enthusiastically and work is proceeding nicely.

Miss Leffler gave a short talk on "Salads and Salad Dressing," and their place in the daily make-up of our daily menus. Despite the fact that they were so sweepingly condemned by Dr. Woods Hutchinson as being so much trash, she showed that a toothsome salad, made from green uncooked vegetables or seasonal fruits is the rightful balancer to a heavy mid-winter meal.

These demonstrations are proving to

From the Social Neighbors.

Will the Intellectual club please accept this parody on "Marching Through Georgia" as a donation from the Social Neighbors. We will not assume this to be a composition at all; no more were the few lines written last week by the Intellectuals:

Hurrah! hurrah! so here we are!

Just watch us win a score.

We'll leave the L. I's behind so far

They'll not try to compose one more.

We've hope and trust in the faithful few

To win, if there are only two,

If we never decide to join the Federation.

CHORUS.

We'll be the monkey if you'll be the owl,

So what will you have to drink?

Oh! since you are so very kind,

We'll give you a bottle of ink,

And tell you all, as you march to the call,

You've won our adoration,

Although you have joined the Federation.

CHORUS.

Hurrah! hurrah! the Social Neighbors

for fun.

Hurrah! hurrah! the Intellectuals' time will come.

Oh, ten to one when the fun's begun

Our shouts will reach the sky

While they step to time of Federation.

What's in a name? Oh, such a shame!

That the L. I's talk so bad,

If that's the way we get their aid

I'm sure 'twill make us sad.

But cheer up now and do not cry,

For soon you'll hear them sigh,

"Oh, my, my! The Federation."

CHORUS.

DEBATE ON
HOME RULECarson Opposes Redmond in House of Commons.

ULSTER WILL NOT COMPROMISE

Militant Province Will Not Submit to Rule of Any Parliament in Dublin. Nationalist Leader Says Exclusion Can Never Solve Problem.

London, Feb. 12.—Sir Edward Carson and John E. Redmond, the two biggest figures in the fight for and against home rule for Ireland, opposed each other in debate in the house of commons.

Sir Edward Carson, head of the provisional government of Ulster, insisted that Ulster would accept no compromise which brought it under the rule of a Dublin parliament.

John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, replied that the exclusion of Ulster never could be the solution of the Irish question. There were features in both speeches, however, which encouraged those who hope for an amicable compromise of the questions at issue.

The discussion of home rule for Ireland was carried on simultaneously in the house of lords, where Lord Lansdowne said that any proposal for the exclusion of Ulster from the provisions of the measure must be accompanied by precautions for safeguarding the interests of Unionists living outside the excluded area. Otherwise, he said, the proposal would not be acceptable to the Unionist party.

Sir John Simon, the attorney general, attacked the Unionist amendment to the reply to the king's speech. The attorney general said: "The real purpose of this amendment is to tear up the parliament act. Even in the event of a general election returning the Liberals to power, it will be a new parliament and the house of lords would be free to block the home rule bill for another three sessions."

Sir Edward Carson, head of the provisional government of Ulster, said: "If Premier Asquith's promised 'suggestions' attempt to draw Ulster within the grip of the Dublin parliament, I will stand, regardless of all consequences with the people of Ulster in their policy of resistance."

VOICE OF BUSINESS

National Chamber of Commerce in Session at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 12.—More than 500 delegates, representing every state in the union, were gathered at the opening of the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States when President Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, in his address, pictured the vast foundation on which the organization is based. The chamber now comprises 50 per cent of the business organizations of the country, he said, built on a membership of over a quarter of a million.

The voice of American business had found expression that could not be denied, Mr. Wheeler declared, and the death knell of lobbying in Washington has been sounded.

"When American business wishes to speak," he said, "it can go to congress or to the executive and say, 'this is the opinion of American business on this particular subject.' This is a new day, when our methods are being reorganized and the organized forces of labor and of agriculture and of commerce meet here in Washington, not for war, but for peace; that the opinion of each may have its place in framing the laws on which all shall live."

Rabbi J. Morgenstern, who officiated at the wedding, also was covered from head to foot with medically prepared wrappings.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride was conveyed to the contagious ward of the Cincinnati hospital in Avondale. There it was said her condition was improved.

Private Lines Not Common Carriers.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—The contention that private car lines are not common carriers was made in the answer filed by Frederick W. CASTILLO EXECUTED
BY INSURGENTSBandit and Six of His Followers
Put to Death.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 12.—Maximo Castillo, the bandit, and six of his followers were captured and executed near Chocolate pass, about forty-five miles northeast of Pearson, Chihuahua, according to telegrams received by General Francisco Villa in Juarez. The messages were sent from Casas Grandes, he said, by constitutionalist officials. A detachment of rebel cavalry, under Major Juan San Diego, surrounded Castillo's band near the pass. It is reported, and captured seven of them, including Castillo.

An attempt to rush Mexicans recruited in this city by President Huerta's recruiting agents across the river brought out four troops of the Fifteenth cavalry to prevent the violation of neutrality. The news reached General Scott in excited telephone messages from the Ysleta road asking the meaning of the rush of automobiles down that way. An observer estimated the number of machines at thirty.

YOAKUM FILES PETITION

Asks for Dismissal of Suit Filed by Frisco Receivers.

St. Louis, Feb. 12.—The dismissal of the suit of the receivers of the St. Louis and San Francisco to recover $14,000,000 from former officers and directors of the road was asked by B. F. Yoakum of New York insofar as the suit applies to him in a petition filed in the district court here.

Mr. Yoakum, who was former chairman of the board of directors of the Frisco in his motion, says the federal district court is without jurisdiction and that the facts set forth are insufficient as a basis of action. Other reasons are also given.

The petition relates that he comes "by protestation, not confessing or acknowledging all or any of the matters or things in the bill of complaint to be true in such manner and form as the same are therein set forth."

Ten present or former directors of the Frisco were named in the receivers' suit filed Jan. 22, as liable to the railroad for a loss of $14,408,000 sustained as the result of the purchase of the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad from a syndicate of which Frisco directors had been promoters.

There Are Two Kinds of Bargains

Some are bargains when you look at them on store counters piled up in descriptive disarray and planked with "catchy" price cards.

They ARE Catchy, So is Fly Paper,

Then there are bargains that are bargains after you take them home and examine them in clear light and quietness. They continue to be bargains after you use them day in and day out. They stand the service test; and you think kindly of the store that made this sort of bargain possible to you. This is the only kind of bargain we care to offer.

We are not long on special sales. Every day is bargain day with us. For instance; We sell the ONYX triple coated enameled ware. Guaranteed to please you or your money back.

A Good Way To Test It

Take a piece of it home with you, place it on the stove dry, heat it red hot, then put cold water in it and if the enamel chips off bring it back and we will give you another piece or your money back. Then test some of your bargain junk in the same way. Then if you are not satisfied, take a piece of ONYX ware and a similar piece of any other make, strike them against each other until the enamel is broken. Then look at them and see which piece is broken.

We are selling the ONYX ware cheaper than many of the inferior brands are being sold.

GORE'S DEFENSE IN DAMAGE SUIT

Counsel for Blind Senator Says Woman Seized Him.

OTHER SIDE CHARGES ATTACK

Plaintiff's Glasses Broken During Struggle, Lawyer Says—Judge Rules Past Life of Neither Party to Suit Vital—Taking of Evidence Begins.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 12.—The taking of testimony in the $50,000 damage suit instituted by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond against United States Senator T. P. Gore began today. She charges that the Oklahoma senator attacked her while she was a guest at a Washington hotel.

The jury is composed of seven farmers, two salesmen, a banker, a broker and a groceryman.

Judge George W. Clark, in defining the scope of evidence to be submitted, held that the past life of neither the plaintiff nor the defendant was vital to the case, although testimony may be presented to establish the general reputation of either. It is stated that under this ruling a mass of depositions will be excluded.

Rosa L. Lillard made the opening statement for the plaintiff. He asserted witnesses would testify that Senator Gore attacked Mrs. Bond in a room in which they met at the senator's suggestion to discuss the appointment of Mrs. Bond's husband, Julian Bond, to a federal position and that in her struggle to free herself Mrs. Bond's glasses were broken. On the following day, the attorney asserted, friends of Senator Gore endeavored to have the trouble hushed up and urged Mrs. Bond to leave Washington.

O. B. Cruce, brother of Governor Lee Cruce, spokesman for the defense, declared that the senator met Mrs. Bond in the lobby of the hotel at her suggestion to discuss the appointment of her husband, and that Mrs. Bond suggested that they go to the room, where they could converse without interruption; that during the conversation Mrs. Bond seized the senator, and that he freed himself and left the room. Several days later, according to Mr. Cruce, Mrs. Bond complained to the district attorney at Washington, who refused to take action.

WRIGHT NOT TO ENTER

Says Plane Engine Too Weak for Trip Over Atlantic.

Cincinnati, Feb. 12.—"A trans-Atlantic trip in an aeroplane is at the present time impracticable. It would be foolhardy for an aviator to try this trip with the engine now used in aeroplanes."

Thus Orville Wright, one of the pioneer builders of "heavier-than-air" machines, answered questions as to whether he would enter the lists with other aviators who declare they will try a trip across the Atlantic in their machines.

"The machines as they are now built have not the staying powers required for a voyage of this length, and under no circumstances will the engines hold out under the strain of such a journey. Efforts have been made to cover the same distance on land, and have failed, and while necessity may force many things it will not bolster up a weak engine when once the let down comes."

Ball Players Visit Vatican.

Rome, Feb. 12.—Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago club of the American baseball league, was well enough to go with the members of the American baseball teams to the Vatican, where the party was received by the pope, who greeted the visitors with great cordiality. He thanked them for their visit and in a short address praised the practice of athletic sports for the strengthening of the body, and at the same time the practice of religion to strengthen the soul. He then imparted to all the apostolic benedictions.

Captain of Monroe Used False Compass

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—Captain Edward E. Johnson, commander of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, which was sunk off the Virginia coast by the steamship Nantucket, testified that on the night of the disaster he was navigating his vessel with a steering compass that was not true. There was a standard compass aboard the Monroe, he admitted, but said it was the custom of vessel masters in the coastwise trade to navigate ships with a steering compass.

Skeleton of Pigmy Found in California.

Los Angeles, Feb. 12.—The skeleton of what appears to have been a prehistoric pigmy, less than three feet in height, is on its way from the asphalt beds of La Brea to the Smithsonian institute in Washington. If the genuineness of the find is verified there the La Brea skeleton will take its place in the history of anthropology as the first remains of antediluvian man found on the North American continent.

New Aeroplane Altitude Record.

VOLUME 4.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI. THURSDAY, FEB. 12, 1914.

NO. 218.

ANOTHER TAG DAY

CITY BOARD OF CHARITIES IS FACING A DEPLETED FUND.

SEVERAL WORTHY CASES

Board Has Been Taking Care of Them, But Now Finds It Necessary to Raise More Funds.

Another Tag Day for charity! It is a necessity!

The city board of charities is facing an almost depleted fund, and it will probably be in that state by the time this issue of The Democrat-Forum reaches its readers this evening. This cold wave has been felt by all of us, but for those who were not prepared, and "they are always with us," it has brought real suffering.

The board has been helping several families, all worthy cases, for several weeks, and there has been response, but not quite sufficient, to all its appeals for help for these people. And now that the board is getting to the bottom of its purse it feels justified in letting the people know of it, assured by the past that Maryville's heart will not permit a case of suffering if she knows about it.

Mrs. G. A. Nash, chairman of the board, is fortunate in having for her assistants Mrs. A. R. Perrin, Mrs. J. D. Frank, Mrs. G. H. Colbert, Miss Mae Orvar and Miss Jessie Parcher.

With these helpers the chairman is finding it possible to know if an appeal for aid is worthy or not, and they are doing all they can to relieve the distress they find or are told of, especially where there are little children.

The board now has on its hands a 6-year-old boy, Frankie Nine, who was sent to St. Francis hospital Sunday for treatment. Frankie's mother brought him to Maryville a year ago last summer. She was with the Campbell Carnival company, that showed here one week, and boarded at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Belcher, at Buchanan and Fourth streets. When she left she wanted to leave the child a week with Mrs. Belcher, because he was tired of "going around," he said, when she would return and take him away with her. At the end of a week she wrote and asked Mrs. Belcher if she would keep the child, and said she would send a stated sum to her for keeping him. Mrs. Belcher agreed to keep the little boy, and he wanted to stay with her, and the money came regularly, also letters to him.

By and by the money and letters quit coming, and no one knows where the mother is. She is separated from her husband, and nothing is known of the father. Frankie was started to school last September at the Garfield school. He is a handsome little fellow, fair-haired and blue-eyed, and as merry and good natured as he looks. But the teacher, Miss Martha Denny, saw she could not expect much work owing to his frail health. He was out of school a good deal on account of sick spells, and although he said nothing, it is believed he wondered why he did not hear from his mother. He has become much attached to Mr. and Mrs. Belcher, and wants to stay with them. About a month ago he took sick with pneumonia and has been very sick since. Mrs. Belcher was called to Wray, Col., a week ago by the death of her mother, and as there was no one to give him the care the child needed, he was taken to the hospital. He cried bitterly when he was taken from the Belcher home last Sunday, because he did not want to go to a strange place, but he is very happy and contented having completely won his heart. More now, Mother Augustine and the Sisters money is needed for his support there or until Mrs. Belcher comes home. Who would like to help this little boy, who has a face as bright as an angel's?

Another case that the board needs help with is that of a woman with three little children, the baby 4 weeks old. She lives on East Third street, and will not need help long, as she will begin to take in washing in a few weeks. She came here a few months ago from Arizona, where her husband was killed last fall. The people in Arizona made up a purse for her, with which she paid the funeral expenses, paid her way to Maryville, and had enough left to buy the property she is living in, excepting $50. She is confident she will be able to make her living all right from washing as soon as she is able. Her father lives here, but is unable to help her.

So get ready for Tag Day, and a picture show benefit at night that will be given by the board soon. Count your blessings, and then help, if it is not more than 10 cents worth. The board of charities is composed of women who are in earnest in their work, and they know how to help and advise those whom they will help.

TO SET ASIDE DEED.

J. M. Armstrong is Suing Thomas Ashbrook and Wife to Have Title Divested.

By a suit filed Thursday in Circuit Clerk Rathbun's office, Joseph W. Armstrong of this city is suing Thomas Ashbrook and wife to have a deed set aside, the plaintiff claiming that the defendants are in possession of the deed by false and fraudulent representations. Mr. Ashbrook, one of the defendants in the suit, recently sued Wm. I. Gray for $5,000 damages for the alienation of his wife's affections, and when the case was called at the last term of circuit court it was dismissed, as Mr. Ashbrook was not present in court when it was called.

The petition states that the plaintiff was the owner of and entitled to the sole and exclusive possession of a certain parcel of real estate in Maryville, and on February the plaintiff entered into a contract with defendants to sell the above real estate for $540.85, said deed to be conveyed to W. C. Pierce, and Mr. Pierce to turn it over to the defendants when the payment of $540.85 was made. The petition further says that on February 9, 1914, Ashbrook presented a check to Mr. Pierce on the Real Estate bank of Maryville for $540.85, and purporting to be drawn on his account at said bank, and claiming that said check was good. On the next day, the petition recites, the check was presented at the bank for payment, and payment was refused, there being no funds to Ashbrook's credit.

The suit is to have the deed set aside and cancelled, and to divest all title out of the defendants. Shinar, Blagg & Ellison are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

EVANGELIST HAUDENSCHILD.

Conducting the Greatest Religious Meeting Olympia, Wash., Has Ever Seen.

The Democrat-Forum received Thursday a copy of the Olympia (Wash.) Independent, in which it speaks of the great meeting being held there by Evangelist C. R. Haudenschild, who is the son-in-law of Mrs. J. V. Embree of this city and who is well known here. The Independent editorially says:

"Haudenschild has the quality of a great speaker. He has the highest quality of oratory, the gift of making each hearer feel that he is talking to him. Haudenschild does not aim at arousing emotion. He is terse in plain English, swift, clear movement of his mind from thought to thought. His wealth of vivid anecdotes are all oratorical of the highest kind. The Bible lectures have aroused the interest of the Christian people of Olympia and have created a new interest and love for the old Book. These afternoon meetings will always remain in the minds of the Christian people of Olympia."

A few sentence sermons from the addresses of Evangelist Haudenschild are:

Reputation is what you are in the dark. Character is never put on, it grows out.

The proof of right doing, is doing right.

It is not what you can do, but what you will do that counts.

Going to church does not make you a Christian, any more than going to the stable makes you a horse.

The most successful preacher against the church is the inconsistent life of the church member.

You that are talking about hypocrites in the church have no kick coming. It is one of your gang that got in by mistake.

It takes less sense to criticize than to do anything else. There are a great many critics in the asylum.

I want a religion that gives us something to do, and isn't everlastingly catching at something.

I think of the so-called elite or upper crusts of society the same as I do of foam. It comes to the top because it is light.

The back door of the church ought to be opened once a year and give all who have not lived up to its rules an opportunity to pass out.

The girl that will marry a man whose breath smells with whisky is the biggest fool that angels ever wept over.

I don't think much of dignity; my observation has been that the more dignity a man has the nearer dead he is.

Mrs. Elizabeth French was a business visitor in Bolckow Wednesday evening.

SOME BIG LAND DEALS.

The old Jacob Everhart farm of 350 acres, southwest of Maryville, was sold to C. P. Schmidt.

A. J. Cox traded his 60-acre farm, six miles southwest of Maryville for the 160-acre tract of Greeley McDonald, north of Maitland.

AGAINST RAILROAD CROSSINGS.

State Highway Engineer Buffum Wants to Get Crossings Out of County Seat Roads.

County Highway Engineer John H. Clary received a letter from State Engineer Frank W. Buffum on Thursday, in which he writes in regard to what has been done toward taking the railroad crossings out of both sides of the Wilcox station. He says:

"We want to get these crossings out of the county seat highways. It has been necessary to divert some highways in the other localities on account of the neglect to do this very important thing, and we hope it will not be necessary in this case. If persons are damaged it is but proper that they should be paid for any damages that would happen, but, generally speaking, it is a safety to their families and they should not drive the road away from where they get the benefit of a good road, and escape the dust."

Birth of a Son.

A son was born to Mrs. James Berry Wednesday morning. Mrs. Berry lives in apartments over the Nunnally grocery. Her husband, who was employed in that store, died last August.

THE GAYNORS DELIGHTED US.

Severe Storm Prevented Good Crowd But Did Not Hinder the Program—Song Writers and Composers.

Mrs. Jessie L. Gaynor of St. Louis, the noted composer of children's songs and other musical compositions, and her talented daughters, Miss Rose Gaynor and Mrs. Dorothy Gaynor-Blake, gave a charming program at the First M. E. church Wednesday night, through the effort of Mr. P. O. Landon of the Conservatory.

It would be difficult to tell of the merit of each of these artists, for they performed their parts equally well. The solo work of Miss Gaynor and Mrs. Blake was well selected, each giving the song best suited to her voice and temperament.

Mrs. Gaynor announced the program in a most delightful way, and as the greater part of the program was of her own composition, and several were by her daughters, the audience and the singers were brought into closer relation and there was a feeling of close friendship between them by the time the program ended. Mrs. Blake has a beautiful, soft mezzo-soprano, while the voice of her sister is a clear soprano. The duet work was lovely, their voices melting into the sweetest melody, and when the mother joined with them in two trios at the close of the program, her sweet contralto added to the beauty and harmony. They are the most interesting and talented trio that have visited Maryville.

Mrs. Gaynor and her daughters gave a concert Monday afternoon for the Fortnightly club of St. Joseph, which was organized by Mrs. Gaynor, and she was its first president. She conducted a studio in St. Joseph while her daughters were growing to womanhood, and they spent some time in Europe studying. They were greeted in a delightful way in their old home Monday, which shows that the esteem in which they were always held had not decreased. The program they gave consisted of piano numbers as well as vocal, and as all are brilliant pianists, their concert was extraordinary. Mrs. Blake accompanies herself in many of her solos.

Mrs. Gaynor was the honor guest of a dinner given in St. Louis the other day by the Nu Phi Epsilon sorority, a national musical organization of which Mrs. Gaynor has been made an honorary member.

Home From Chicago.

Mrs. Edward F. Wolfert returned Thursday morning from a week's visit at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., with her niece, Miss Carrie Margaret Baker. Mrs. Baker, who accompanied Mrs. Wolfert to Chicago, remained for a longer visit with her daughter.

Miss Corwin in High School.

Miss Mae Corwin has been chosen an additional instructor in history and English for the Maryville high school by the board of education. She will be engaged half of each day in this work, which was made necessary by the crowded condition of the classes. The high school has a greater number of students now than at any time.

Death of Nine-Year-Old Boy.

Wilson Lekey, the 9-year-old son of Mrs. Ida Lekey of Burlington Junction, died Thursday morning at 3 o'clock of an acute attack of diabetes, with which he was taken Monday. His death occurred at the home of Mrs. Lekey's mother, Mrs. D. J. Rhoades, with whom she makes her home. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Christian church, Rev. Love, the pastor, conducting the services. Burial at Burlington Junction.

Sold Some of His Land.

FIRST BANQUET

COMPANY F HAD AN ENJOYABLE TIME.

WHAT SPEAKERS SAID

Rev. L. M. Hale Told the Boys to Have Push—I. B. Williams Spoke of Punctuality.

Company F took a new lease on life last night at its first banquet in Armory hall. The company was ordered to "fall in," and marched to the banquet tables at 8:35. Rev. L. M. Hale and I. B. Williams, the speakers of the evening, and Ursel Crockett were given seats of honor.

The banquet itself was appetizing, especially to members of the company, for they had prepared most of the spread themselves with assistance from two or three mothers of members. "This is the first movement to revive interest in Company F," said Lieutenant DeMotte, in the course of his remarks as toastmaster. He also stated that it was the intention and hope to put in a wrestling mat, horizontal bars, boxing gloves, punching bag and other things as a diversion from the regular drill and army tactics. "What we want and are trying to do," he said, "is to have a place where the fellows can come and spend the evenings with some pleasure instead of loafing on the streets. We want to make the company mean something to Maryville as well as to ourselves." The toastmaster then introduced Rev. L. M. Hale as the principal speaker of the evening. In introducing him he said that he did not wish to introduce him as a preacher but as a man; as a fellow who was not ashamed to work and talk with other fellows.

Rev. Hale said that he considered that he had been paid one of the highest compliments by the toastmaster that it had ever been his privilege to receive. "I consider a man to be the biggest thing God ever made," he said, "and the next biggest thing was to do a man's job."

"In looking at the faces of these men I notice that most of them are young. And by that I am reminded of the story one of the college professors used to tell us boys at school. It is an old story, but it illustrates the point. The old professor held an acorn in his hand and said this is an oak tree, in that it represents the possibility of the oak. Herein lies the germ that is nurtured by Mother Nature into the full grown sturdy oak of the forest. In itself it is no more than the acorn, but holds within its tiny shell the rudiments of the oak. So with you young fellows here. You are the possibilities of the man. You are now molding yourselves into powers of good or evil. In forming this company you have tremendous possibilities before you to do good. While you are training for military service you should not overlook the moral side of your development. To realize the greatest of your possibilities you must have a definite purpose. To do something that will be of service to your fellow men as well as to your country. To realize your purpose accomplished you must have what I call push."

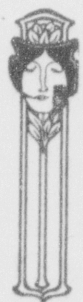

I. B. Williams, a former member of the cadet band of the University of Missouri, was then introduced by the toastmaster as a fellow among fellows "who hates a sneak and lives up to his belief." He said that the first lesson he had to learn was "obedience" and submission to the commanding officer, and one of the lessons that the members of the company would have to learn before they would make good and useful soldiers. "The next thing to learn," he said, "is punctuality. This is one of the great secrets of military movements." He said that he hoped to see the members follow the flag of the company and make it mean something to Maryville as well as to themselves. "Make the people of this town respect you because of your good work, and not have them criticize you by saying you are a bunch of rough-necks, which you are not."

The members each spoke a few words in praise of their first efforts at holding a banquet, and each pledged himself to stand loyally by the company and make it a success. Last Sunday night a number of the company attended the Buchanan Street Methodist church in a body. It is the intention of the company to attend the other churches from time to time.

The toastmaster said that he hoped the boys would lend their support in helping to make the company one to which the people of Maryville could look with pride.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

Local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

CLEANS YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL

It Becomes Thick, Wavy, Lustrous and All Dandruff Disappears—Hair Stops Coming Out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Beside beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—Advertisement.

Met With Mrs. Bellows.

The Shakespearean department of the Twentieth Century club held its meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George P. Bellows. Owing to much sickness among the members several substitutes had to be made on the program, and the lack was exceedingly well met. Roll call was responded to with quotations from act 2 of "As You Like It." The outline was given by Miss Grace Langan. The following questions were answered: What comparison does the Duke make of the life of courts and the life of nature? Miss Lenore Schumacher. How is Jacques introduced, and show the difference between the ordinary meaning of the word melancholy and Shakespeare's use denoting a melancholic disposition. Mrs. Berney Harris. How does Shakespeare show contrasts between beasts of prey and beasts that are preyed upon by man? Miss Alma Nash. What humorous commingling of masculine and feminine touches do we observe in the first scene presenting Rosalind in male attire? Mrs. G. A. Nash. Why is so much of act 22 given to the depicting of Jacques? Mrs. J. S. Shinabargar. What do you know of his past life? Mrs. Herbert Langsdorf. Is his melancholy the result of disillusion or is it an element in his nature? Mrs. George Robert Eaton. Give Jacques' description of the ages, Mrs. E. G. Orear. Amiens song, Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend. A general discussion followed. Current events, Miss Della Grems. Word drill, Mrs. Gallatin Craig. Parliamentary drill, Mrs. Orear.

The Federation Meeting.

Notwithstanding extremely disagreeable weather of Tuesday afternoon, a goodly number of ladies gathered for the meeting of the City Federation. The president made use of the occasion to extend her thanks to any and all who helped or patronized and made "The Fete of Months" the success it was. The object of this affair, the placing of seats in the court house yard, will have a neat sum to its credit.

It was also reported that a seat will be added to the number to be bought by the Federation and given by the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Colbert, chairman of the civic improvement committee, was happy to report that the movement for cleaning up the town of old magazines, gathering together a car load and selling them, the proceeds to be used for a rest room, is being received enthusiastically and work is proceeding nicely.

Miss Leffler gave a short talk on "Salads and Salad Dressing," and their place in the daily make-up of our daily menus. Despite the fact that they were so awfully condemned by Dr. Woods Hutchinson as being so much trash, she showed that a toothsome salad, made from green uncooked vegetables or seasonable fruits is the rightful balancer to a heavy mid-winter meal.

These demonstrations are proving to

From the Social Neighbors.

Will the Intellectual club please accept this parody on "Marching Through Georgia" as a donation from the Social Neighbors. We will not assume this to be a composition at all; no more were the few lines written last week by the Intellectuals:

Hurrah! hurrah! so here we are!
Just watch us win a score.
We'll leave the L. I's behind so far
They'll not try to compose one more.
We've hope and trust in the faithful few
To win, if there are only two,
If we never decide to join the Federation.

CHORUS.
We'll be the monkey if you'll be the owl,
So what will you have to drink?
Oh! since you are so very kind,
We'll give you a bottle of ink,
And tell you all, as you march to the call,
You've won our adoration,
Although you have joined the Federation.

CHORUS.
Hurrah! hurrah! the Social Neighbors for fun.

Hurrah! hurrah! the Intellectuals' time will come.

Oh, ten to one when the fun's begun
Our shouts will reach the sky
While they step to time of Federation.

What's in a name? Oh, such a shame!
That the L. I's talk so bad,
If that's the way we get their aid
I'm sure 'twill make us sad.

But cheer up now and do not cry,
For soon you'll hear them sigh,

"Oh, my, my! The Federation." CHORUS.

DEBATE ON HOME RULE

Carson Opposes Redmond In House of Commons.

ULSTER WILL NOT COMPROMISE

Militant Province Will Not Submit to Rule of Any Parliament in Dublin. Nationalist Leader Says Exclusion Can Never Solve Problem.

London, Feb. 12.—Sir Edward Carson and John E. Redmond, the two biggest figures in the fight for and against home rule for Ireland, opposed each other in debate in the house of commons.

Sir Edward Carson, head of the provisional government of Ulster, insisted that Ulster would accept no compromise which brought it under the rule of a Dublin parliament.

John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, replied that the exclusion of Ulster never could be the solution of the Irish question. There were features in both speeches, however, which encouraged those who hope for an amicable compromise of the questions at issue.

The discussion of home rule for Ireland was carried on simultaneously in the house of lords, where Lord Lansdowne said that any proposal for the exclusion of Ulster from the provisions of the measure must be accompanied by precautions for safeguarding the interests of Unionists living outside the excluded area. Otherwise, he said, the proposal would not be acceptable to the Unionist party.

Sir John Simon, the attorney general, attacked the Unionist amendment to the reply to the king's speech. The attorney general said: "The real purpose of this amendment is to tear up the parliament act. Even in the event of a general election returning the Liberals to power, it will be a new parliament and the house of lords would be free to block the home rule bill for another three sessions."

Sir Edward Carson, head of the provisional government of Ulster, said: "If Premier Asquith's promised 'suggestions' attempt to draw Ulster within the grip of the Dublin parliament, I will stand, regardless of all consequences with the people of Ulster in their policy of resistance."

VOICE OF BUSINESS

National Chamber of Commerce in Session at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 12.—More than 500 delegates, representing every state in the union, were gathered at the opening of the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States when President Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, in his address, pictured the vast foundation on which the organization is based. The chamber now comprises 50 per cent of the business organizations of the country, he said, built on a membership of over a quarter of a million.

The voice of American business had found expression that could not be denied, Mr. Wheeler declared, and the death knell of lobbying in Washington has been sounded.

"When American business wishes to speak," he said, "it can go to congress or to the executive and say, 'this is the opinion of American business on this particular subject.' This is a new day, when our methods are being reorganized and the organized forces of labor and of agriculture and of commerce meet here in Washington, not for war, but for peace; that the opinion of each may have its place in framing the laws on which all shall live."

Rabbi J. Morgenstern, who officiated at the wedding, also was covered from head to foot with medically prepared wrappings.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride was conveyed to the contagious ward of the Cincinnati hospital in Avondale. There it was said her condition was improved.

CASTILLO EXECUTED BY INSURGENTS

Bandit and Six of His Followers Put to Death.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 12.—Maximo Castillo, the bandit, and six of his followers were captured and executed near Chocolate pass, about forty-five miles northeast of Pearson, Chihuahua, according to telegrams received by General Francisco Villa in Juarez. The messages were sent from Casas Grandes, he said, by constitutionalist officials. A detachment of rebel cavalry, under Major Juan San Diego, surrounded Castillo's band near the pass. It is reported, and captured seven of them, including Castillo.

An attempt to rush Mexicans recruited in this city by President Huerta's recruiting agents across the river brought out four troops of the Fifteenth cavalry to prevent the violation of neutrality. The news reached General Scott in excited telephone messages from the Ysleta road asking the meaning of the rush of automobiles down that way. An observer estimated the number of machines at thirty.

YOAKUM FILES PETITION

Asks for Dismissal of Suit Filed by Frisco Receivers.

St. Louis, Feb. 12.—The dismissal of the suit of the receivers of the St. Louis and San Francisco to recover $14,000,000 from former officers and directors of the road was asked by B. F. Yoakum of New York insofar as the suit applies to him in a petition filed in the district court here.

Mr. Yoakum, who was former chairman of the board of directors of the Frisco in his motion, says the federal district court is without jurisdiction and that the facts set forth are insufficient as a basis of action. Other reasons are also given.

The petition relates that he comes "by protestation, not confessing or acknowledging all or any of the matters or things in the bill of complaint to be true in such manner and form as the same are therein set forth."

Ten present or former directors of the Frisco were named in the receivers' suit filed Jan. 22, as liable to the railroad for a loss of $14,408,000 sustained as the result of the purchase of the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad from a syndicate of which Frisco directors had been promoters.

HELD UP AND BADLY SLASHED

Employee of Kansas City School Found in Critical Condition.

Kansas City, Feb. 12.—Henry Lockwood, employed at a parochial school in the south side district here, was found in his room in the school basement, suffering from loss of blood and shock from a critical wound. Physicians at the hospital to which Lockwood was taken said he was mutilated permanently and that his condition was dangerous.

Irregularities Found.

Deadwood, S. D., Feb. 12.—Following the finding of a warrant for $500, which had been issued and sold to another county officer without notification, the county commissioner commenced an investigation of the county auditor, John L. Baker, for alleged irregularities. The board found the warrant last week and forced its return and cancellation and refund of the money. Baker is said to be missing.

??? Do You Know a Bargain When You See It ? ? ? ? ?

There Are Two Kinds of Bargains

Some are bargains when you look at them on store counters piled up in descriptive disarray and planked with "catchy" price cards.

They ARE Catchy, So is Fly Paper,

Then there are bargains that are bargains after you take them home and examine them in clear light and quietness. They continue to be bargains after you use them day in and day out. They stand the service test; and you think kindly of the store that made this sort of bargain possible to you. This is the only kind of bargain we care to offer.

We are not long on special sales. Every day is bargain day with us. For instance, We sell the ONYX triple coated enameled ware. Guaranteed to please you or your money back.

A Good Way To Test It

Take a piece of it home with you, place it on the stove dry, heat it red hot, then put cold water in it and if the enamel chips off bring it back and we will give you another piece or your money back. Then test some of your bargain junk in the same way. Then if you are not satisfied, take a piece of ONYX ware and a similar piece of any other make, strike them against each other until the enamel is broken. Then look at them and see which piece is broken.

We are selling the ONYX ware cheaper than many of the inferior brands are being sold.

The same fact can be applied to the following lines, which we carry in stock:

DeLaval Cream Separators

A Simple Test

James J. Hill has said: "If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life you can easily find out. The test is simple and it is infallible: Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."

GORE'S DEFENSE IN DAMAGE SUIT

Counsel for Blind Senator Says Woman Seized Him.

OTHER SIDE CHARGES ATTACK

Plaintiff's Glasses Broken During Struggle, Lawyer Says—Judge Rules Past Life of Neither Party to Suit Vital—Taking of Evidence Begins.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 12.—The taking of testimony in the $50,000 damage suit instituted by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond against United States Senator T. P. Gore began today. She charges that the Oklahoma senator attacked her while she was a guest at a Washington hotel.

The jury is composed of seven farmers, two salesmen, a banker, a broker and a groceryman.

Judge George W. Clark, in defining the scope of evidence to be submitted, held that the past life of neither the plaintiff nor the defendant was vital to the case, although testimony may be presented to establish the general reputation of either. It is stated that under this ruling a mass of depositions will be excluded.

Rosa L. Lillard made the opening statement for the plaintiff. He asserted witnesses would testify that Senator Gore attacked Mrs. Bond in a room in which they met at the senator's suggestion to discuss the appointment of Mrs. Bond's husband, Julian Bond, to a federal position and that in her struggle to free herself Mrs. Bond's glasses were broken. On the following day, the attorney asserted, friends of Senator Gore endeavored to have the trouble hushed up and urged Mrs. Bond to leave Washington.

O. B. Cruce, brother of Governor Lee Cruce, spokesman for the defense, declared that the senator met Mrs. Bond in the lobby of the hotel at her suggestion to discuss the appointment of her husband, and that Mrs. Bond suggested that they go to the room, where they could converse without interruption; that during the conversation Mrs. Bond seized the senator, and that he freed himself and left the room.

Several days later, according to Mr. Cruce, Mrs. Bond complained to the district attorney at Washington, who refused to take action.

WRIGHT NOT TO ENTER

Says Plane Engine Too Weak for Trip Over Atlantic.

Cincinnati, Feb. 12.—A trans-Atlantic trip in an aeroplane is at the present time impracticable. It would be foolhardy for an aviator to try this trip with the engine now used in aeroplanes.

Thus Orville Wright, one of the pioneer builders of "heavier-than-air" machines, answered questions as to whether he would enter the lists with other aviators who declare they will try a trip across the Atlantic in their machines.

"The machines as they are now built have not the staying powers required for a voyage of this length, and under no circumstances will the engines hold out under the strain of such a journey. Efforts have been made to cover the same distance on land, and have failed, and while necessity may force many things it will not bolster up a weak engine when once the let down comes."

Ball Players Visit Vatican.

Rome, Feb. 12.—Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago club of the American Baseball league, was well enough to go with the members of the American baseball teams to the Vatican, where the party was received by the pope, who greeted the visitors with great cordiality. He thanked them for their visit and in a short address praised the practice of athletic sports for the strengthening of the body, and at the same time the practice of religion to strengthen the soul. He then imparted to all the apostolic benedictions.

Captain of Monroe Used False Compass Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—Captain Edward E. Johnson, commander of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, which was sunk off the Virginia coast by the steamship Nantucket, testified that on the night of the disaster he was navigating his vessel with a steering compass that was not true. There was a standard compass aboard the Monroe, he admitted, but said it was the custom of vessel masters in the coastwise trade to navigate ships with a steering compass.

Skeleton of Pigmy Found in California.

Los Angeles, Feb. 12.—The skeleton of what appears to have been a prehistoric pigmy, less than three feet in height, is on its way from the asphalt beds of La Brea to the Smithsonian institute in Washington. If the genuineness of the find is verified there the La Brea skeleton will take its place in the history of anthropology as the first remains of antediluvian man found on the North American continent.

New Aeroplane Altitude Record.

Johannesthal, Feb. 12.—Robert Thelen, a German aviator, made a world's altitude record for a flight with four passengers. He attained a height of 5,350 feet.

IF CONSTIPATED OR BILIOUS "CASCARETS"

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They Work While You Sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food, and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Advertisement.
